

Lazy Susan Cork Display Kit

Congratulations on your purchase of the Epicureanist Lazy Susan Cork Display Kit! We hope you enjoy showcasing your past wine adventures with the creation of your own unique lazy susan.

Here's what you'll need to get started:

- Bottle corks you've collected

You may also need:

- A ruler
- A sharp knife
- A flathead screwdriver
- Sandpaper
- Glue (included)

Your kit comes with a finished frame, complete with backing, glue, and an acrylic topper.

Here are some tips to creating your own cork pattern:

DESIGN and try your cork pattern first to ensure it fits properly in the lazy susan frame. This will help avoid having to detach glued corks should you need to start over.

DRAW a template on the backing of your kit with an erasable pencil if you are designing a complex pattern. Follow your template as you place and apply the corks to the backing.

COMPLETE one row at a time along the perimeter of the frame, placing corks one or two at a time either horizontally or vertically. Apply a healthy amount of glue to the corks before affixing to the backing of the kit, and ensure that it fits comfortably. Use a ruler as a guide to achieve level rows, and work from the outer perimeter of the frame toward the center. Once glued, allow several days to dry.

CUSTOMIZE your corks by cutting or sanding them, standing them up or varying their direction. The midsection of the lazy susan may become like a jigsaw puzzle, requiring modified corks for a better fit. Use the wine-stained ends of corks to form patterns, initials or shapes.

REARRANGE corks after they have been glued and dried by carefully removing them. Use the flat end of a screwdriver to gently pry the cork from the backing, being careful not to damage the wood.

PROTECT your completed design by placing the included acrylic topper over the corks. Set in place by inserting the topper into the groove along the internal edge of the lazy susan.

Enjoy your Lazy Susan Cork Display!
